Lesson –Communication

A. Study the following text and answer the following questions:

Communication is the means of sending and receiving information between two or more people. It is also the act of conveying intended meaning to the another person through the use of mutually understood signs especially by means of electronic, print, radio, waves and several other means that may be e-mail, internet, telephone, radio, television, letter, fax, magazines, newspapers etc. We need to communicate to share information with other. The development of means of communication has made interpersonal relations close, interact and easy.

The different categories/ways of communication include:

Spoken or Verbal Communication: face-to-face, telephone, radio or television and other media.

Non-Verbal communication: body language, gestures, how we dress or act.

Written Communication: letters, e-mail, books, magazines, the internet or via other media.

Visualizations: graphs and charts, maps, logos and other visualizations can communicate messages.
