Read the following story and answer the questions that follow.

It was a bright day in summer. A green little grasshopper was hopping about merrily¹ in a field. It was chirping² and singing to itself without a care in the world. Soon it saw an ant passing by. The ant was dragging³ home a grain of corn with great difficulty.

'You seem to be working very hard. Why not come and chat⁴ with me?' said the grasshopper. 'Why don't you enjoy the bright summer's day?'

'I am helping to store food for the winter,' said the ant, 'You should also do the same.'

'Why bother⁵ about winter?' said the grasshopper; 'We have got plenty of food now.' But the ant went on its way doing its work.

When winter came the grasshopper had no food and found itself very hungry. The ants happily ate up the corn and grain from the store they had collected in the summer. Then the grasshopper knew why the ant had worked so hard on a bright summer's day.

adapted from an Aesop's Fable

¹merrily happily + ²chirping sounds made by birds + ³dragging pulling (something) with difficulty + ⁴chat talk + ⁵bother worry
