A. Study the following text and answer the following questions:

Nationality

The concept of nation and nationality are extremely difficult to define. A nation means a group of people who share a common territory and government. The word nation came to the English from the Old French word 'nacion', which is derived from the latin word 'natio' meaning "birth". The nation is a social concept. It is an organized community of people composed of one or more languages, religions, cultures, traditions and history. A nation, by comparison, is more impersonal, abstract, and overtly political than an ethnic group.

There are different things which constitute a nation, among them some are listed below:

Government: It is the system by which the state or community is controlled.

Population: All the people who live in the certain country.

Sovereignty: Sovereignty is the authority by which a country governs itself.

Territory: A territory is a term for types of administrative division.

The concept of nation and nationality influences government policies. Nationality is a country, you come from. Nationality is an abstract concept. It is all about the way the people in certain territory bind themselves through some common meaning.

Nationality is the legal relationship between a person and a state. The feeling of brotherhood, welfare, cooperation, mutual understanding and unity they share constitute a nation. We all share some common history and traditions as a citizen of Nepal. Nationality differs technically and legally from citizenship, which is a different legal relationship between a person and a country. The feeling of being different but living under the same umbrella gives us the feeling of nationality.

So, a nation is like different colours of flowers in a garden. We love our nation and feel proud of being Nepali. The love for our nation forms nationality. The feeling of pride towards one's ancestry, history, heritage, which each and every Nepali harbour for being a citizen of Nepal, construct our nationality. We have not been under any foreign invasion yet. Nepal is the country of peace. There had been brave warriors who sacrificed their lives for our nation. They put their life at stake than remain defeated, and dominated. Such is the history of our nation which has constructed our nationality and have made us really proud of our ancestors.
